LUNCH AND DEPARTURE

About the Conference

The National Productivity and Performance Conference, 2026, is a national convention for the promotion of dialogue, knowledge sharing, and collaboration on the enhancement of national productivity and performance.

The Conference is a landmark forum bringing together the top leadership in the national and county governments, policymakers, private sector, practitioners, academia, civil society, and development partners.

Delegates to the Conference will explore innovative approaches, share best practices, and generate actionable policy interventions and reform initiatives that promote productivity, strengthen efficiency in service delivery, enhance revenue generation, promote public-private partnerships and sustainable economic growth.

The national gathering will inspire a culture of accountability, excellence and continuous improvement, while positioning Kenya among the global leads in productivity and service delivery.

Rationale

The Conference is premised on the backdrop of a constrained fiscal space within an economy with tremendous potential. Despite ongoing reforms in performance management and service delivery, significant gaps remain in translating institutional performance into measurable efficiency, value for money, improved citizen outcomes and economic growth.

Although significant milestones have been achieved in implementing the productivity mandate, systemic challenges remain, particularly in integrating productivity metrics, recognising productivity, and linking remuneration to performance outcomes.

Further, the significant proportion of national resources consumed by the public wage bill crowds out investment in development and delivery of essential services. This implies that the level of the public wage bill, as of the financial year 2024/2025, is fiscally unsustainable at 40.64 per cent of ordinary revenue, thus, the need for interventions to enhance revenue growth.

Therefore, the Conference presents a strategic platform aimed at forging practical strategies for enhancing productivity, improving performance, optimising service delivery, strengthening revenue mobilisation and maximising institutional accountability.

Conference Themes

The Conference is convened under the theme, 'Productivity for Fiscal Sustainability and Efficient Service Delivery'.

Conference Sub-Themes

1) Managing, measuring and rewarding productivity and performance.
2) Fiscal and economic planning discipline: Revenue growth and sustainable resource utilisation.
3) Wage bill management and compensation systems for a high-performing and productive public service.
4) The future of work: Human resource development, digital transformation and innovation for productivity and performance.
5) Social dialogue, labour relations and tripartism for sustainable productivity and performance.
6) Public–private partnerships for productivity, performance and competitiveness: Leveraging private sector efficiency, labour productivity and governance excellence.

Objective

To provide a high-level strategic platform for dialogue, learning, and collaboration aimed at enhancing the linkage between Kenya's public service productivity, revenue generation and wage bill sustainability.

Expected Outcomes

To yield consensus-based resolutions that will lead to the achievement of the following:

1) A National Productivity Charter committing stakeholders to concrete productivity reforms.
2) Established monitoring frameworks to track improvements in service delivery and revenue performance.
3) Policy frameworks and capacity building initiatives to incentivise the public service.
4) A roadmap towards performance-linked remuneration in the public service.
